

AML 2070: Survey of American Literature

COURSE SYLLABUS

Spring 2017

Instructor: LindaDarnell Stanley

Contact information: Please use the Canvas Inbox located in the menu on the left.

Course website: elearning.ufl.edu

COURSE TEXTS

1. Janet E. Gardner's, Writing about Literature: A Portable Guide 3rd edition, ISBN 9781457606496
2. Most texts are provided within the Course Content section or through University of Florida Library course reserves. Other texts are available on the World Wide Web; URLs are provided where appropriate.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course provides an overview of American literature from pre-colonization to the present. It takes a historical approach that positions the literature in relationship to a socio-historical framework, aiming to examine not only the texts themselves but the circumstances from which they arise.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. To provide a broad introduction to the development of a uniquely American body of literature, placing that development within its historical contexts
2. To develop critical thinking about ideals of identity and difference, as well as about the inclusion or exclusion of texts from the mainstream category "literature"
3. To increase understanding of the nature of a "national literature" and its role in the sociopolitical environment of the nation

COURSE STRUCTURE

One of the major advantages to an online course is its flexibility since all course materials and assignments are available to you 24 hours a day.

The course has been structured into six modules that include a total of 20 lessons. In modules 1, 2, 4, and 5, each lesson contains a variety of different content. This content might include reading materials contained within the Course Content section, on reserve for you in the library's Automated Reserves system (ARES), or from freely available online sources, as well as a number of interactive activities that you can click on to extend your learning and enhance your experience in the course. Modules 3 and 6 focus on the production of academically rigorous persuasive essays that demonstrate your successful engagement with the material presented in the other modules.

Everything is structured in a step-by-step fashion. If you have any questions or comments at any time, feel free to email me. I am excited to have your participation in this course and I look forward to your contributions to it!

COURSE OUTLINE

Module 1: From Colonization to Revolution.

This module looks at the oral traditions of Native Americans as well as a selection of early colonial texts.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

You must have and regularly check a valid email account for this course. You should check your email accounts at least twice per week or more often depending on your progress in the course.

By signing up for an online course, you certify that you have reliable access to a computer and the internet. To take these courses, you need a web browser, a word processing program, a program for reading Acrobat documents, and other programs, for example Windows or Real Media to view/hear multimedia content.

If you do not already have these programs, many options are available including these free options:

- Multi-platform Web Browser: Mozilla Firefox, <https://www.mozilla.org/en-US/>
- Word Processing: OpenOffice, <http://www.openoffice.org/>
- Acrobat Reader: Adobe Acrobat, <http://www.adobe.com/>

Students must use their Gatorlink email account for this course. Students are recommended to check their email account DAILY for the duration of the course. Access to and on-going use of a computer with Internet access is required for all students. Competency in the basic use of a computer is required. At times, computers crash and Internet connections fail. It is in your best interest NOT to wait until the last minute to complete assignments.

LIBRARY AUTOMATING RESERVES SYSTEM (ARES)

Presently, all necessary materials, except the textbook, are available via hyperlinks within this course. However, should any material become unavailable on the web, it would be shifted to the UF Library's Automated Reserves System. To access that system, click the "Access the eLibrary" link on the course Start Here page. This will bring you to a page where a link has been provided for UF Library's Remote Logon ("Off-Campus Library Access"). Once you have logged into the library system, go to the library's main page using the links provided at logon. From the library's main page, click on the course reserves link under the "Find" heading at the left center of the page. You will need to create an ARES account the first time you access the system. Once in the system, follow the on-screen directions to locate this course and access the reserved materials.

ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSIONS

All assignments must be submitted via Canvas by 11:59 pm on the day that they are due. You must submit all assignments using the Assignment or Discussion link in the course menu. Unless otherwise instructed, submit your documents as attachments saved in rich text format (.rtf), Microsoft document format (.doc or .docx), or OpenOffice document format (.odt).

NOTE: If you do not have Microsoft Office or other software capable of saving documents in one of the file formats identified above, you can download the OpenOffice software suite free of charge. OpenOffice is an open-source designed office productivity suite that has comparable components to Microsoft Office. Please reference OpenOffice's comprehensive help files for instructions in its effective use.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS:

Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Disability Resource Center in the Dean of Students Office provides students and faculty with information and support regarding accommodations for students with disabilities. Staff at the Disability Resource Center will assist any student who registers as having a disability. Official documentation of a disability is required to determine eligibility for appropriate accommodations. The professional employees at the Disability Resource Program serve as full-time advocates for students with disabilities ensuring students have physical and programmatic access to all college programs. Here is the link to register with the DRC: DRC-How to Get Started

The Dual Enrollment office should be notified of any special accommodations required by the student when they begin their course.

DROPPING OR WITHDRAWING FROM A COURSE:

- Students wishing to drop a UF Dual Enrollment course after drop/add deadline must contact their UF Dual Enrollment advisor to discuss process.
- All full-term withdrawals must follow University of Florida policies/procedures. Students must contact their UF Dual Enrollment advisor to discuss process.

HOW TO REQUEST A UF TRANSCRIPT:

There are two ways to order a transcript:

1. Via the online ordering system at Student Self Service webpage.
2. If you cannot use the online system, please contact the UF Office of the University Registrar for instructions to mail in a request with a check or money order. They can be contacted by phone Monday- Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., at 352-392-1374. Persons with hearing impairments can call FRS # 1-800- 955-8771 (TDD).

Please check your “unofficial transcript” first, before ordering your “official transcript”, to make certain that your grade has been posted.

GETTING HELP:

For issues with technical difficulties for E-learning in Canvas, please contact the UF Help Desk at:

- Location: HUB 132
